

Another Walk on the Wild Side

Tuesday, 18th August at 2.30pm.

Meet at Fusiliers' Arch (top of Grafton Street), St. Stephen's Green, Dublin 2. Join Éanna Ní Lamhna, panellist on RTÉ's 'Mooney Goes Wild Show' and author of Wild Dublin, for a wild and wonderful nature walk through St. Stephen's Green which is an oasis for wildlife in the city centre.

Dublin City and the Wide Street Commissioners

Monday the 24th August 2.30pm.

Meet at the Main Entrance to Dublin City Hall, Dame Street, D2
A guided tour with Dr. John Montague and Dr. Charles Duggan focusing on the work of the Wide Street Commissioners in shaping the buildings and streets of Dublin City. Organised by Dublin City Library & Archives in conjunction with DCC Heritage Office and DCC Community Section.

NB: Spaces Limited - Booking Essential

E. dublinpubliclibraries@dublincity.ie

Phone: 01 6744806

Fairview - Marino

Tuesday the 25th August 11am.

Meet at Brams Cafe, St Aidan's Park Rd Marino

A tour of the beautiful Fairview area including Marino Crescent, birthplace of Bram Stoker author of Gothic masterpiece Dracula.

The Sandymount Walking Trail

Saturday, 5th September at 2pm.

Meet at Sandymount Green, Sandymount Village, Dublin 4.

Enjoy a stroll along leafy roads and take in panoramic views over Dublin Bay as we explore the history of this charming village with historian, Joe McCarthy.

The Ranelagh Walking Trail

Saturday, 19th September at 2pm.

Meet at Ranelagh Triangle, Ranelagh Village, Dublin 6.

Absorb the atmosphere of the Ranelagh Arts Festival as local historian, Sally Corcoran takes you on a tour through the heart of one of Dublin's most charming and vibrant villages. Hear about the Ranelagh Pleasure Gardens, the notorious Massacre of Cullenswood and lots more!

www.ranelagharts.org

The Rathgar Walking Trail

Saturday, 26th September at 2pm.

Meet at Herzog Park, Rathgar Village, Dublin 6.

Take a tour through Rathgar with historian, Pat Liddy as we launch the Rathgar Walking Trail Map & Guide which has been developed by Rathgar Residents Association in partnership with Dublin City Council. Uncover the area's rich history and enjoy some stories along the way.

Blessington Basin and surrounding Area

Saturday October 3rd October 2pm.

Meet outside the Three Patrons Park in front of the Mater Hospital (junction of Berkley Road and Eccles Street).

The walk will take in all the sites of historic Phibsborough before finishing at Blessington Street Basin one of Dublin's most beautiful hidden gems.